Dear Sir

I have the pleasure to acknowledge receipt of your favor of 10th Inst, enclosing 25 cents, for copy of "Museum Notes" containing article by Mr Harvey Keats, which I have sent under separate cover.

Mr Harvey Keats is now in great need of employment, this Museum being too small to offer him employment, I mention this in case you might know anyone who could make use of his very valuable knowledge in Coins, he not only is very expert, but knows the Historical data which enhances the value so much.

His address is

Dear Sir:

Your letter of January 17th is at hand, and I regret very much that I do not know of any opening into which Mr. Keats would fit. At present we have nothing to offer here. Should anything come to my attention, I shall bear in mind your suggestion and endeavor to send you word.

Very truly yours,
